CESBA helps build a prosperous Ontario through adult and continuing education programs in school boards.

CESBA (The Ontario Association of Adult and Continuing Education School Board Administrators) is a provincial, non-profit professional association that represents, advocates for and supports adult and continuing education (A&CE) program staff working in nearly 60 school boards across Ontario. Incorporated in 1999 and provincially funded, CESBA works to ensure that adult and continuing education programs offered by school boards are accessible, affordable, and successful in helping learners achieve their education, training and employment goals.

The Ontario Association of Adult & Continuing Education School Board Administrators, 2021

MESSAGE FROM THE CESBA BOARD CHAIR AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

As we continue to grapple with the impact of COVID-19, we know that adult and continuing education has a pivotal role to play in a recovery that is equitable and just. The economic fallout of the pandemic has had a social cost, but our programs offer hope by allowing learners to upgrade skills, switch careers, contribute to the workforce and gain independence. Adult and continuing education addresses the significant learning gaps caused by the pandemic. The pathways between our school board programs give students a unique opportunity to navigate seamlessly from English/French as a Second Language and Literacy programs to Credit courses, apprenticeship programs and beyond.

New technology and the shared reality of working remotely gave us a chance to connect often and respond nimbly to the requests of our members. In the past year, we offered more events to our members than ever before. Our first virtual conference, Inclusion 2020, was a tremendous success thanks to staff, contractors and volunteers from our membership who spent countless hours planning and preparing on a steep learning curve.

This year, we hosted numerous additional online workshops and meetings for various sectors, including a record number for our PLAR/Credit/Guidance community and for administrators. We also held four enthusiastically received presentations on equity and inclusion last spring that continued the timely and important conversations we began at our conference. Many of our events featured our brilliant membership sharing their expertise to help us all rise to the demands of our times. We know that virtual events were more accessible for some members, while others missed the benefits of being face to face. As we plan for our future, we hope to carry the lessons forward to offer our membership both virtual and in-person events.

This report summarizes our work from April 1, 2020 to March 31, 2021, but CESBA has been through notable change since then that has also been reflected in this publication. We have introduced our PSW Lead and Quality Assurance Coordinator, Anita Plunkett, to our team. We welcomed Executive Director Paul Cox, who recently retired as the Adult and Continuing Education Principal of Waterloo Catholic District School Board, and we bid farewell to our phenomenal Executive Director of eight years, Bernadette Beaupre.

We want to extend our profound gratitude to Bernadette for building CESBA into what it is today—a vital community network and the central voice for adult and continuing education in Ontario.

Sincerely,

Jeff Moore

2020-2021 YEAR IN REVIEW

Strengthening Government Relations

Through our government and public relations, CESBA champions the immense societal value and economic impact of school board Adult and Continuing Education (A&CE) in Ontario. In the past year, we met with decision makers in three key learning ministries: Education (EDU); Labour, Training and Skills Development (MLTSD); and Children, Community and Social Services (MCCSS). We also invited their representatives to address our members at our regional meetings.

We met with the Ministries of Health, Long-Term Care, and Colleges and Universities to advocate for the importance of our school board Personal Support Worker programs as a key part of the labour shortage solution as we begin to act on the lessons learned during the pandemic. We also engaged with Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) at the federal level and hosted them at member meetings.

The goals of our government and public relations work is to:

1. Advocate for a public policy environment where A&CE in Ontario can thrive through ongoing discussions with key ministry staff in EDU, MLTSD and MCCSS.
2. Champion the societal value and economic impact of A&CE.
3. Increase the engagement and diversity of our network to positively influence public policy.

We continue to communicate the following key messages to our funders, stakeholders and the public:

Impact

- Adult and continuing education boards in Ontario graduate thousands of students annually with their Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD).
- The OSSD is recognized internationally and is never challenged – most employers now require it as a minimum hiring requirement.
- Programs like English/French as a Second Language (ESL/FSL), Literacy and Basic Skills (LBS) and Adult Credit provide pathways to post-secondary, employment and apprenticeships.
- Certificates for public board programs are widely recognized by employers (PSW Certificate, Hairstyling Training, Culinary Training, etc.)

Access

- Over 245 public board locations in Ontario offer Adult Credit and other adult education programs – Individuals can easily access information on programs through any local school.
- Programs are usually delivered at one school in the area, so students can access literacy, digital literacy, skills upgrading, English as a Second Language, Adult Credit and more at a single location.
- Most programs are tuition free or require modest materials fees.

Flexibility

- Flexible learning in adult learning settings—in-person, online, hybrid, night or summer school—allow adults who are working or caring for their families to enrol.
- Co-op and internship opportunities are available for adult learners in a wide range of sectors.
- Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) for mature students—a program where students earn credits for life experience—allows many students with Grade 9 and 10 credits to complete their OSSD in under six months.
- Learning plans are student-led so each learner achieves their individual education and employment goals.

Reaching Out to Our Members

We launched our revamped website in October 2020 to provide our members with a hub that is attractive, easy to navigate and filled with current resources to support A&CE program staff. The website includes a library of over 300 resources, an event calendar, a news section, a job bank tool and a conference area. The use of the website increased significantly over the previous year, with 13,492 users (+48%), 20,056 (+36%) sessions and 50,329 pageviews (+32%).

We provided our mailing list of over 1,650 A&CE professionals, community partners and supporters with important sector news, resources, activities and events through our monthly enewsletter, a new weekly bulletin from our Executive Director and numerous other sector and event eblasts.

Our social media channels informed almost 1,400 followers of CESBA updates, upcoming events, and relevant news.

CESBA Conference: Inclusion 2020

November 25-26, 2020

Almost 350 attended our first virtual conference, with over 20 workshops and plenary events, as well as a day of sector content.

On November 26, Ben Vallati, Ottawa Catholic School Board, and Bernadette Beaupre, CESBA Executive Director (outgoing), were consummate hosts who made our participants feel welcome.

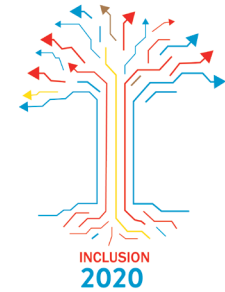

Our dynamic and well-received keynote speaker, Anthony McLean, presented on Inclusivity in Education: Better than Diversity. Workshops provided a broad range of content that survey respondents shared were “relevant to their work” and “extremely engaging”.

The day opened with music by Indigenous drummer, Gabriel Gaudet. Video showcases were provided through the day by Francophone student artists from Centre d'Excellence Artistique de l'Ontario, Conseil des écoles publiques de l'Est de l'Ontario.

The second annual Lifetime Achievement Award was presented to Paul Cox, now our Executive Director, from Waterloo Catholic District School Board on his retirement from St. Louis Adult Learning and Continuing Education.

The first day of sector content was arranged and provided by CESBA membership on PLAR/Guidance/Credit, ESL/FSL/LINC, International and Indigenous Languages and Personal Support Worker programs.

Thanks to sponsors and partners, including title sponsor EduTravel, as well as the volunteers and staff who managed to expertly deliver a complex conference in a new online format.

FAREWELL TO EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR BERNADETTE BEAUPRE

Executive Director Bernadette Beaupre led CESBA with bold vision through extraordinary growth for the past eight years.

When Bernadette joined CESBA in 2013, the organization relied on a procession of private consultants, with no staff or office. She worked closely with the board to move it to a policy governance framework to ensure transparency, accountability and ethical practices. In her first three years, she wrote policies and built infrastructure that ensured our sustainability. She moved to an office at Centre for Social Innovation, produced annual reports and moved CESBA online.

Drawing inspiration from the West Region, Bernadette launched our regional meetings for the North, Central and East Regions. These have become vital touchpoints for our members. She also started numerous committees across sectors and ensured they all felt supported.

In 2016, Bernadette hired staff rather than relying on project consultants. With the help of the new team, she added a secure website that provided a resource hub for members, social media platforms and our monthly newsletter. Under her leadership, the staff also grew the annual conference, supported committee work and launched numerous research and resource development projects.

Bernadette forged relationships with key government representatives from all relevant ministries. Her government relations work has ensured our organization and programs receive critical funding. She advocated fiercely on behalf of our organization when the government changed, which allowed our survival.

Bernadette has forged relationships with A&CE stakeholders across the province with tenacity, humour and generosity of spirit. Through her leadership with our member administrators, other community groups, government policy makers, board and staff, CESBA has become a powerful voice for adult and continuing education in Ontario.
